OPTIMISM SHOWN OVER PROSPECTS FOR COTTON CROP

Bankers And Farmers Believe Good Yield And Price Will Come Together This Year—Local Acreage Increased—Labor Charges Expected To Be Low—Cotton Has Good Stand.

Prospects in Wilbarger county for a good cotton crop and price simultaneously are the most promising in years is the frank comment of local bankers and farmers on the streets of Vernon Saturday, and a distinct spirit of optimism is permeating everywhere in this vicinity. With excellent crop weather during the present season, farmers have been enabled to carry out their work thoroughly and painstakingly, and as a result a good crop is expected.

Wilbarger acreage in cotton has been increased this year, and some of the crop is well advanced. In most parts of the county it has a good stand. Heavy rains washed out a considerable portion of country cotton, but most of this has been replanted. It is estimated that there will be more cotton in Wilbarger than in any year since 1914.

Prospects Bright

Without additional rain, it is pointed out, a fair crop of cotton can be gathered here, and with showers in June a bumper yield will probably result. With the price of cotton advancing the local situation is deemed by many to be decidedly flattering.

"I've been waiting for a year which would bring good crops and good prices together," was the comment of one banker, "and it seems as though we might expect that condition this time. In 1914 we had a big crop but low prices, the year before it was just the opposite."

"Our labor this year should be cheap, too. You see, many farmers were washed out by floods in the districts farther south and will be hunting work this season. Boll weevil, too, have enjoyed a mild winter and can be counted upon to work great depredations. All this, however, disastrous it may be for other sections, aids conditions here."

Poultry Industry Aids

Another banker expressed the opinion that turkeys and poultry are contributing immeasurably to the prosperity of Wilbarger farmers. He quoted recent figures printed in The Record to show the growth of this enterprise locally, and expressed the conviction that this industry is a big factor in helping to make county farmers more prosperous.

The attitude generally is that everything is pointing to success. Farmers are busy everywhere, crops are growing, and unless the unforeseen occurs there will be prosperity this fall in Wilbarger county, those in a position to know are stating.

STERLING P. STRONG TO SPEAK IN VERNON TONIGHT

Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, candidate for the United States Senate, will speak in Vernon tonight at 8 o'clock in the district court room. He will be accompanied by his brother, W. P. Strong of Fort Worth and S. B. Huff of Decatur. E. T. Tye of Fort Worth is managing Mr. Strong's campaign.

Mr. Strong is known as a staunch supporter of prohibition, and has waged a fight against liquor for several years. He is president of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas. He has also been advocating a stringent policy to straighten out Mexican affairs. Mr. Strong is in the coal and oil business. He served eight years as clerk of Montague county, and later organized a bank at Bowie. He is now on a trip through the Panhandle; he spoke at Wichita Falls last night and at Chillicothe this afternoon.

INFANT GIRL SUCCEUMS TO ILLNESS OF FIVE DAYS

Joyce Maxine Hollars, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hollars of W. Maiden street, died at the family home Sunday morning at 11:20 and was buried in East View cemetery Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock. Reverend Brown of Fort Worth conducted the funeral services at the home and the cemetery.

The little one since its birth five days before had been very sick. The parents, four sisters and one brother survive the baby.

ALWAYS GOOD FRIENDS, SAYS FOCH.

Marshal Haig, King George V, General Foch.

At the grave of British soldiers at Notre Dame de Lorette, near Vimy Ridge, the King of England saw Marshal Foch and Earl Haig grasp hands. He stepped forward with marked emotion and, holding both distinguished soldiers by the arms, said, in French: "Always good friends." Foch replied, also in French: "Certainly, Your Majesty. We shall always be good friends for the same cause and for the same reason."

DATES ARE SET FOR NEXT POULTRY SHOW

WILBARGER EXHIBITS TO BE STAGED HERE EARLY IN DECEMBER.

December 7, 8 and 9 have been selected by the Wilbarger County Poultry Association as the dates for the next poultry show to be conducted in this city. This time was decided upon at a meeting of a committee Saturday.

Plainview dates are December 14 to 19 inclusive and the Wichita Falls exhibits will be held beginning December 20 and continuing through Christmas Day. Under this arrangement there will be no conflict of dates, and many breeders are expected to make all three shows.

Prospects Excellent

According to H. D. Hockersmith, secretary of the local Association, prospects for the next show are better than ever before. He believes there will be at least 500 birds on exhibition with prospects for many more. The local increase alone, in his estimation, will reach 500 birds.

In addition to this, the earlier date of the show will insure the presence of many foreign breeders, he points out, who were unable to attend the last one on account of having mated their birds. The exhibits last year, however, eclipsed anything ever before staged in Wilbarger county.

Breeders Profit

"Every breeder in the county has sold everything that he had for sale," said Mr. Hockersmith this morning, "and in addition could have sold twice as much. This includes eggs, chicks and old stock. Adam Dinges alone sold more than $300 worth of eggs, and his experience was similar to that of others. We are confident that the coming show will be a revelation to the people of the county in the way of demonstrating what it is possible to accomplish with poultry."

NEW MANAGER FOR LOCAL KELL MILL

C. D. ASHENHURST CALLED FROM OKLAHOMA CITY TO IMPORTANT POST.

C. D. Ashenhurst of Oklahoma City, assistant manager of the Kell Mill at that place, will June 1 become the active general manager of the local mill, according to advices furnished from the Vernon office yesterday. J. A. Birdsong, secretary-treasurer of the concern and present general manager, will devote his time to the finances of the milling company.

Mr. Ashenhurst enjoys a wide experience in the milling business, having served twelve years in this line of work. He is a young man of pleasing personality. He has never before been in Texas. The new manager is originally from Harrisonville, Mo.

Mrs. Ashenhurst and three children will come to Vernon in the near future. Three children, Miss Allene, a senior in high school and her younger sister, Marie, and Dee, a 3 year old boy, compose the children of the family.

TO MAKE SUMMER RESORT OF DAMSITE

ARLIE BERRY PLANS ERECTION OF PAVILION AND BUNGALOWS

Damsite, a short distance east of Quanah, will become Lake Pauline and on its shores there will be established a colony of summer cottages when plans now being formulated by Arlie Berry, Vernon resident, are put into effect. Mr. Berry has secured a fifteen year lease on the lake and surrounding property from W. M. and J. S. Rice of Houston, owners of the Hardeman County Irrigation Co. and will erect a summer resort immediately.

A large pavilion will be built by Mr. Berry and twenty-five bungalows constructed. The latter will be partly furnished. Fifty-two boats, eight of them motor launches, will be put on the lake. Electric lights, water works, and a fine bathing beach will be installed, and the grounds will be completely enclosed by a fence.

Will Sell Privileges

The project is to be financed by means of selling privileges for fishing and hunting. Initiation fees will be twenty-five dollars a year and five dollars a year for dues. Damsite has long been a well known and popular fishing resort, and is widely patronized. The surroundings are ideal. Citizens from three counties have already indicated their desire to purchase shares or privileges.

COURT COMBINES PRECINCTS TO ELECT VERNON WEIGHER

Only two public weighers will be elected in Wilbarger county in the future by virtue of an order issued from the county court uniting voting precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, and 8 for this purpose. Odell will name the other weigher.

The order was issued in view of the fact that a major portion of the cotton raised in the united precincts is weighed in Vernon and those growing it are desirous of having a voice in selecting their weigher. The weigher for the Vernon precinct will appoint his deputies elsewhere, obviating the necessity of bringing all cotton here to be weighed.

ALL-CHURCH MEETING ON LAWN

Methodists To Observe Monthly Attraction Wednesday With Attractive Program

The monthly all-church meeting of the Methodist church will be held Wednesday night at 8:15 on the lawn next to the parsonage. Lights will be strung for the occasion.

The meeting will be largely an informal singing affair interspersed with musical numbers and readings from some of the young people. They will be supported by the orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Roy McConihe.

The first fifteen minutes of the occasion will be spent in devotions led by Rev. W. P. Garvin. The pulpit is invited to attend and those present are urged to call for their favorite songs.

ROUSE ANNOUNCED AS CANDIDATE FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

Local Editor Sponsored By Friends For Important Office—Wichita County Indicates Favor—Is Well Acquainted With Needs Of Wilbarger And Its Residents.

An announcement for representative in the State legislature from the 112 district from T. L. Rouse, editor of The Vernon Times, has been given the press, and friends of the local newspaper man are already marshalling their forces to make his candidacy a successful one. Mr. Rouse, when interviewed yesterday, declined to state positively that he will make the race. "Just say that my friends announced me," was his statement. Mr. Rouse has as yet formulated no platform.

Should Make Strong Race

According to friends of the Vernon editor, he should have little difficulty in attaining the office in the event he decides to run for State representative. Wichita county political leaders are said to have indicated their willingness to support his candidacy.

According to State district, Wichita county is allowed two representatives while Wilbarger and Wilbarger county together are allowed one. Wichita voters, it is said, favor a Wilbarger candidate for the joint county representative. J. D. Parnell, former Vernon resident, has announced for representative from Wichita county.

Is Well Qualified

T. L. Rouse has never before held public office, but is considered by his supporters to be well acquainted with county needs and people through his newspaper activities. He has been connected with The Vernon Times for three and a half years, coming to this city after having served as lieutenant in the aviation corp of the United States army during the world war.

He is a son of Rev. W. T. Rouse, former minister of the Vernon Baptist church and a nephew of J. O. Rouse, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Wilbarger county. Mr. Rouse is a graduate of Baylor University.

Sherwood Couple Marries

Willie Brock of Electra and Miss Belle Roberts of the Sherwood community were united in marriage late Friday night at the residence of Rev. C. A. Waterfield, who performed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Roberts of Sherwood and Mr. Brock for some time has made his home in the Tolbert community. They will make their home in Electra.

SURPRISE FRIENDS BY QUIET WEDDING

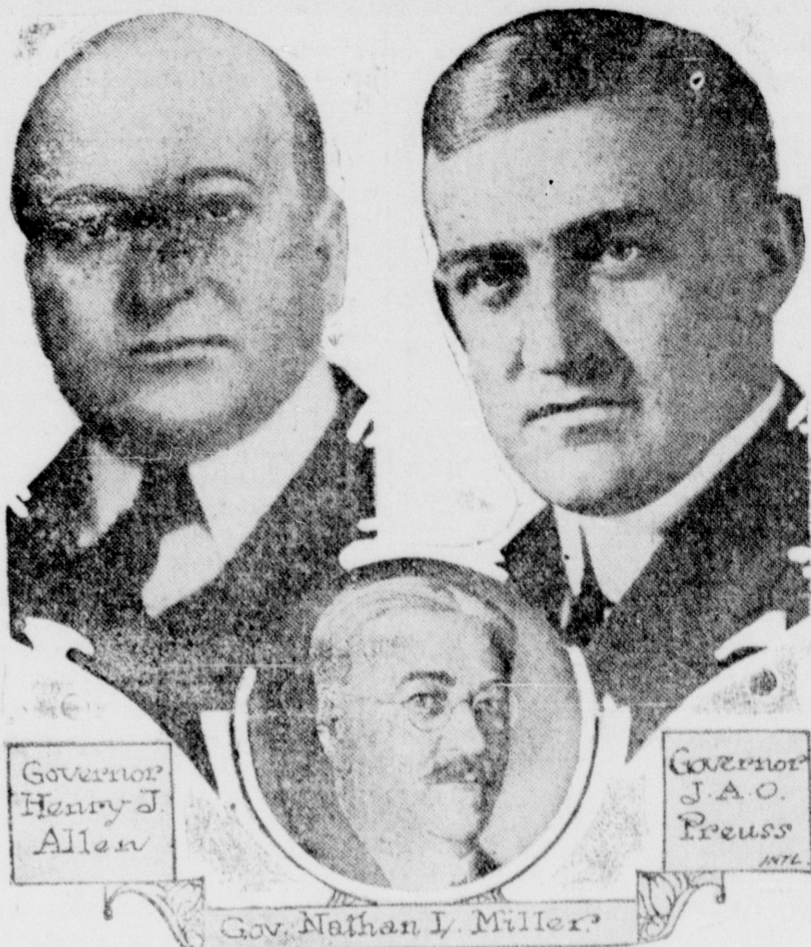

MISS ADDIE THOMASON AND INNES MCCRARY MARRY SATURDAY NIGHT

Friends of Miss Addie Lorena Thomason and Innes M. McCrary, both of Vernon, were surprised to learn last week-end of their marriage Saturday night at 8:30 at the home of Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker in Wichita Falls. Robert Basham and Miss Willie Carroll, both of Wichita Falls, were the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. McCrary returned to Vernon Sunday.

Both young people are well known locally, having been born in Wilbarger county and having spent most of their lives here. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Thomason of that city last July. Mrs. McCrary graduated from Holcomb's Training School in 1918, and has since been employed both at the B. and W. Drug Store and Leutwyler Jewelry Store. She has many relatives in the county, and a wide circle of intimate friends.

Mr. McCrary, who is foreman of the Napier Bros. Motor Co. shop, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCrary and graduated from the local high school in 1916. The following year he attended Southwestern University, and then entered the army, serving two years. Eleven months of this time was spent overseas in the motor transport corp. Mr. McCrary also has many friends here. The young couple will make their home on the southeast corner of Houston and Olive streets.

THREE GOVERNORS ARRESTED BY ONE COP.

Motorcycle Policeman Brautigan, of Wilmette, a suburb of Chicago, has the absolutely unique distinction of having arrested three Governors in one day. The distinguished prisoners were Governor Nathan J. Miller, of New York—Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, and Governor J. A. O. Preuss, of Minnesota, whose car was speeding thirty-six miles an hour, while returning to Chicago from the Exmoor Golf Club. "Everybody is a Governor or a millionaire when he's arrested," remarked Brautigan, calmly. "You'll have to tell it to the Judge."

RESIGNATION OF NURSE ACCEPTED

MISS ROSE EILMANN TO CEASE WORK IN WILBARGER COUNTY

The resignation of Miss Rose Eilmann, public health nurse, was tendered and accepted at a meeting of the executive committee of the Wilbarger County Red Cross this morning at the library building. Miss Eilmann has made no definite plans for the future, but expects to go to Amarillo. The resignation is effective July 1.

Lack of funds was given by the committee as the reason for Miss Eilmann's action, and the acceptance of her resignation by the board. A lack of interest on the part of the general public as to the work of the public health nurse, and lack of information concerning her duties were given as the basis reasons for Miss Eilmann's departure.

Here Year and Half

Miss Eilmann has been public health nurse of Wilbarger county for a year and a half, and has been repeatedly complimented by district officials. Statistics concerning her work have been printed from time to time in The Record. She is regarded by her superiors as one of the most efficient nurses in the entire district composed of eighty-six counties.

POST TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY WITH EXERCISES

Memorial Day services will be observed this afternoon at 5 o'clock at East View cemetery by the local post of the American Legion. There will be a military formation and Rev. C. A. Waterfield of the Methodist church, post chaplain, will deliver an address for the occasion.

Graves of eighteen ex-soldiers will be decorated by the local Legion. A petition circulated among Vernon business houses this morning practically assured the closing of the majority of them this afternoon. Local banks have been closed all day.

LOCAL YOUTHS TO TOUR STATE IN LITTLE RED FORD

A little red Ford will turn its radiator toward Dallas tonight and with it will go two local lads, Jimmy Robertson and Charley Blackwood, who are setting out on a tour proposed to cover several hundred miles. Blackwood, a member of this year's graduating class and Robertson, a junior in high school, will camp on the road.

After reaching Dallas they will go either north or south as fancy may dictate at that time. If north, their path will lead through Oklahoma where Robertson has relatives. If south, Houston and Galveston may be included in the itinerary.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR RICHARD MOORE

WELLINGTON RESIDENT FORMER CITY MARSHAL OF VERNON.

Funeral services for Richard Moore, 44 years old and a resident of Wellington, were conducted Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the home of Mrs. C. L. Hall in this city. Burial was in East View under the auspices of the Odd Fellows' Lodge, and Reverend Hodges of Wellington and L. A. Foster of Vernon conducted the services. Mr. Moore was city marshal here in 1913-14.

The former local resident was discovered Wednesday night in a straw stack one and a half miles south of Wellington with his throat and wrist cut. The coroner's inquest returned a verdict of death by his own hand. He is said to have been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Mr. Moore was a devout member of the Baptist church and belonged to the Oddfellows Lodge and Woodmen of the World. His wife was formerly Miss Annie Dantzler, a Vernon girl. Besides her he is survived by two sons, Joe 17 years old and Charley 13, three brothers, Frank and Tom of Wellington and Wood Moore of Odell, and a sister, Mrs. Dora Richards of Wellington. All were present for the funeral.

Mrs. A. B. Swartwood, convalescing from a local sanitarium Monday morning, is reported to be doing nicely.

MAY SHUT OFF CITY SUPPLY OF WATER

IN EVENT FIRE SIREN BLOWS CONSUMERS ASKED TO FILL RECEPTACLES.

In the event that circumstances warrant, the local supply of water will be cut off for about a day in the near future and consumers are warned by A. J. Robinson, superintendent of the water works, to fill available receptacles in order to tide themselves over until the supply is again turned into the mains. Blasts from the fire siren, blown at intervals of a few minutes, will announce the curtailment of city water.

A ten inch suction pipe, calculated to greatly increase Vernon's supply of water, will be installed, and it is in connection with this work that the above activity may take place. Water will not be shut off until an hour after the siren blows. There is a possibility that the pipe may be installed without working a hardship on consumers.

The work of putting in the new suction pipe will require a full day, it is thought. A reserve of water will be maintained in case of emergency.

NEARLY 200 AT OPENING SESSION OF COOKING SCHOOL

Emergency Preparations Excellently Demonstrated By Mrs. Robert Lancaster, A. and M. Specialist—Advocates Extensive Shelf Of Canned Goods—Gives Recipes.

Mrs. Robert Lancaster, State food specialist from A. & M. College, faced an audience of nearly 200 women yesterday when she opened the first day's session of the Vernon Cooking School, to be conducted here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Every section of the county was represented and many presidents of various rural clubs were in attendance. Mrs. Lancaster was introduced to her audience by Harry Hason, mayor.

A cooking contest is to be staged in the Puckett building Thursday afternoon with an auction at night.

Mrs. R. S. McConihe and John Petty opened the afternoon's session with a delightful piano and violin duet. The lecture and demonstrations were then immediately begun. These dealt with the emergency shelf, and proper food and methods to use in entertaining an unexpected guest.

Have Emergency Shelf

Mrs. Lancaster advised that a shelf in each pantry be devoted to tins of fish, meats, vegetables such as peas, beans, tomatoes and sweet potatoes, and fruits consisting of cherries, pears, pineapples, oranges, apples and lemons. Various salad dressings were also advocated. These, she pointed out, are to be replaced as soon as they are used.

The demonstrator also advised including herbs and spices to add a taste to the dishes, taking them out of the commonplace and putting them in the "company class." To this food closet she asked that polite and hospitality be added in order that the unexpected guest should not be embarrassed by the lack of two prime ingredients.

Salads Great Aid

"Fresh vegetables such as salads, made with French dressing and left over cookery, will disguise a 'canned' dinner admirably," said Mrs. Lancaster. The demonstrator showed the making of boiled dressing and French dressing, and gave a recipe for the making of mayonnaise.

Mrs. Lancaster, with the assistance of Miss Edna Goodfellow, county home demonstration agent, cooked and demonstrated the following menu: consommé, crackers, lamb tongue with small peas and tomato sauce, potatoes, cabbage, pepper salad with French dressing, baked cherry tapioca, coffee and small cakes. Recipes for this menu and all succeeding demonstrations during the school will appear in later issues of The Record.

EDDIE FLUHMANN DIES MONDAY AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS

Eddie Fluhmann, about 16 years old, died Monday afternoon at the home of his grandfather, Fred Fluhmann, living six miles south of Vernon. The boy had been suffering from a lingering illness.

The lad, with his brother, came here several months ago in search of health. Five weeks ago the body of his brother was shipped back to Dallas for burial, and the remains of Eddie were sent away on the noon train today. He will be buried beside the body of his brother in Dallas. Fritz Fluhmann, living in Dallas, was father of the boys.

The young couple will make their home in that community.

AT THE VERNON THEATRE

Friday and Saturday, "Reckless Youth" starring Elaine Hammerstein. "Reckless Youth" is a splendid example of the lengths to which modern motion picture producers will go to provide realism and entertainment for photoplay devotees.

As a mere incident of the story there is mentioned the collision of a big Transatlantic liner and an ocean going yacht. The collision does not actually take place but comes to the heroine while she is unconscious to help point out to her the errors of her ways.

Into the written story the collision is dismissed with only a few words of description. In a play on the spoken stage it would have been side-stepped with the aid of a little excited conversation and some wild pointings off stage. But in the photoplay, at the expense of many thousands of dollars and almost incalculable effort and ingenuity, the dream collision is shown as realistically as if one had been on a third vessel within a hundred yards of the accident. An actual liner and a luxurious private yacht which has made many trips across the Atlantic and through the Mediterranean, were used in securing these pictures which last but a minute or so during the telling of the screen story.

"Reckless Youth" is from story by Cosmo Hamilton after a script made by Edward J. Montague. Ralph Ince directed the production. Niles Welch, Myrtle Stedman, Louise Prussing and Frank Currier are prominent in the supporting cast.

Monday and Tuesday, D. W. Griffith's picturization of "Way Down East," based on the stage play by Lotie Blair Parker, which for the past twenty-two years was one of the rural classics of the American theatre will be presented at the Vernon Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week with the following cast: Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Mary Hay, Burr McIntosh, Lowell Sherman, Creighton

Hale, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, Kate Price, Edgar Nelson, George Neville, Vivia Ozden, Porter Strong, Josephine Bernard, Mrs. David Landan, Patricia Fren, Florence Short, Emily Fitzroy and Myrtle Stutch.

Mr. Griffith's production of "Way Down East" represent ten months' work of the most exacting character, for in his screen versions of the story he has endeavored to follow closely the narrative of the stage play, with here and there a digression for the purpose of dramatic value or elaboration.

"Way down East" is the biggest production Mr. Griffin has made. Several Griffith innovations are promised, including a thrilling snowstorm and a genuine New England ice break on the river.

Following the premiere performance the production will be offered daily, matinee and evening. There will be a special music program.

STRESS NEED FOR GOOD CAMP GROUNDS

DELEGATES TO HIGHWAY CONVENTION SAY ACCOMMODATIONS ARE VITAL.

"Good camp grounds formed the main topic of discussion at the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway convention last week," is the comment of E. L. McHugh, county judge and one of the Willbarger delegates to the meeting. "They nearly 'camp grounded' us to death."

"Travelers are paying much more attention to this feature than ever before. It was pointed out, and they will pass up a town with poor facilities in this respect to go twenty-five miles in order to reach a suitable place to spend the night. Communities everywhere are beginning to wake up to this fact, and are making a strong bid for the patronage of the tourists."

Stress Publicity

In addition to the camp ground discussion, according to Mr. McHugh, the importance of advertising the Colorado-to-Gulf highway was stressed. Publicity should be given, it was asserted to the suitability of the highway for overland touring, and the attractions of the communities located upon it.

Captain Faumley, State highway engineer, addressed the convention on the topic of State and Federal aid, pointing out that Federal assistance will be curtailed within three years unless a change is made in Texas road laws. Under new regulations made by the Federal government, it will appropriate no more money for road building after three years unless half of the necessary amount is provided by the states. Heretofore, and at present the respective counties have dealt with the national government.

No Expense To Counties

Under such a system paying the Colorado-to-Gulf highway would involve no expense to the counties through which it traverses. Captain Faumley made no recommendations as to whether or not, in his opinion, the existing road laws should be changed.

CLIMBS COURT HOUSE POLE

Gordon Russell Places Rope Through Pulley At Dizzy Height With Perfect Calm

To "skin" a flagpole stretching many, many feet above the ground is no mean feat for a grown up man, but when a youngster 10 years old attempts it, and furthermore, accomplishes it, his performance is worth more than ordinary mention. Gordon Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Russell of Vernon, shinned up the court house flag pole this morning with all the intrepidity of a rope through the pulley on top of the rope through the pulley on top of the standard.

Once the rope fell from his grasp, and he descended, clinched it with more determination in his boyish hand, and went up again. As a result the American flag now floats proudly over the court house. Many citizens stood in the street below and watched the lad climb the thirty foot pole.

Young Russell is mascot of Company L, local militia, and during the inspection staged here by Major Culbertson of Wichita Falls, was made ranking lieutenant over all other mascots in this district. He is a lithe youngster, slight of build, but has been "skinning" trees and telephone poles since he was a tiny fellow.

SHOWER ON CHURCH LAWN FOR ORPHANS' HOME

A shower conducted last night on the lawn of the Baptist church for the benefit of Buckner Orphans' Home was well attended and an attractive program was excellently carried out. Numbers of young ladies gave appropriate readings and sang songs. The audience voiced its appreciation of their efforts by frequent applause.

Goetz's band furnished music for the occasion and rendered its selections with admirable skill. Punch was served throughout the evening. A worthy collection of cash and clothing resulted from the shower.

Mrs. Puckett's Pupils in Recital
Mrs. Guy Puckett will present her younger pupils in an attractive recital Friday night at 8:20 at the local Presbyterian church. The program will be announced later. Those who will participate in the affair to which the public has been invited, are the following: Vera Phillips Wilma Curtis, Maurine Cartwright, Ruth Teinert, Nell Hollar, Lydia Lowke, Lolo Hall, Bessie Rhea Vaughn, Louise Kressenberk, Helen Hall, Evelyn Ross, Lora Leverett, Lena Ross, Louise Lowke and Joyce Puckett.

ORIGIN OF MEMORIAL DAY

In a Memorial day address delivered in 1879, Chauncey M. Depew told of the origin of the custom among the women of the South. A part of the address follows:

"When the war was over in the South, where, under warmer skies and with more poetic temperament symbols and emblems are better understood than in the practical North, mothers and children of the Confederate dead went abroad and strewed their graves with flowers, and at many places the women also over the unknown and unmarked resting places of the Union soldiers."

"As the news of this touching tribute flashed over the North it roused, as nothing else could have done, national amity and love and allayed sectional animosity and passion. It thrilled every household where there was a vacant chair by the fireside and an aching void in the heart for the lost hero whose remains had never been found; old wounds broke out afresh, and in a mingled tempest of grief and joy the family cried: 'May-be it was our darling!'

"Thus, out of sorrows common alike to North and South came this beautiful custom. But Memorial day no longer belongs to those who mourn. It is the common privilege of us all, and will be celebrated as long as gratitude exists and flowers bloom."

There is some doubt as to who deserves the honor for having first suggested a memorial day. At least a dozen different women of the South have claimed it. Mrs. Susie Landon Vaughn is often credited with having first expressed the idea for a general memorial day, April 26, 1865. She led southern women in strewing with flowers the Confederate graves in Vicksburg. Three years later, May 30 was adopted throughout the North as Memorial day. Mrs. Vaughn died in 1911. She was a descendant of John Adams, the second president of the United States. Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan of Atlanta also seems to have somewhat of a title to the honor. In 1884 she issued a call for a meeting, at which arrangements were perfected for memorial services for those who had fallen in battle. In those days of terrible poverty there was no money for flowers or carriages, but the women gathered with flowers from the woods and at the appointed time they walked, bearing their wreaths in their arms, two miles to the cemetery. The South was under martial law and public speaking was prohibited, so instead of orations and eulogies there was a simple service of song and prayer, in which many old slaves participated. After that the flowers were put upon the graves.

Little did the tender-hearted mother of the South think of the mighty fruit their action would bear when in the darkest days of reconstruction, with hearts bleeding over their own losses and overflowing with compassion for their bereft sisters of the North, they scattered their garlands alike over the mounds of the Blue and the Gray.

The beautiful sentiment expressed by the burial of an unknown American soldier, fetched in decorous pomp from a battlefield in France, appealed to the hearts of all our citizens most touchingly.

LITTLE GREEN TENTS

Little green tents where the soldiers sleep. And the sunbeams play, and the women weep. Are covered with flowers today. And between the tents walk the weary few. Who were young and stalwart in sixty-two.

When they went to the war away. The little green tents are built of sod And they are not long, and they are not broad. But the soldiers have lots of room; And the sod is a part of the land they saved. When the flag of the enemy darkly waved. The symbol of dole and doom.

THE NEW MEMORIAL DAY

Today finds a nation reminiscent. The occasion is one which annually bids that more than one hundred million souls pause in the daily task of the living to reflect upon the memories of the dead. With bowed heads and reverent hearts the citizens of this great country pay tribute to those whose voices and laughter are stilled, to those whose hands shall never again grasp sword or plough.

Memorial days since 1917 have been for America more poignant with sentiment than those in the years preceding. Since that year 50,000 souls, cut from their earthly bodies by the saber of War, have gone to eternity. Behind are the shattered homes, the tears and the heart aches of those from whose lives there has gone out a great light.

Brave hearts that lie in the Belleau Wood, in the poppy strewn fields of Flanders and other great war cemeteries are today—home again. The mind acknowledges no limitations of time nor space, and those in this country have transported in fancy across the waters their loved ones who a few years ago turned so bravely toward the shell swept fields of France. It is a homecoming, but only—in memories.

Memorial day may worthily serve another purpose besides that of marking reverence to the dead. It may offer the reminder that in this life there are still those who took the same chance with shot and shell, who faced death with the same smile as those upon whom the dread Hand descended. Back from their ghastly bivouac they have come to another sort of homecoming, to face a nation which has already in large measure forgotten the depths of their sacrifices.

Jobless, hungry, ill clothed and often ill treated, thousands of former wearers of khaki are today "down on their luck." Their case is the natural result of a nation, not lacking in pure sentiment, but failing to exhibit material means of expressing that sentiment.

Today is one set aside for reverence. It may well mark not merely a passing reflection and a tear dropped for those who will return home no more, but it is to be hoped that memories of the departed may be strengthened and perpetuated by the beginning of a more material consideration for the living comrades of those who sleep across the seas.

In considering the Darwin theory, it should be remembered that monkeys have also been made out of men.

KILL THE WEEDS

King Scythe has issued a call to Vernon citizenship to aid in stemming the formidable approach of General Weed. The latter, stimulated by a season of beautiful rain and warm sunshine, has marshalled his forces in great numbers, and is planning to overrun the community. The citizenship must not await a conscription, it must volunteer its services and throw up its bulwarks ere a foothold can be gained.

Scientists credit the weed with being a menace to society through its nature as a shield for the breeding of detrimental health germs. Filth of various sorts, thrown into a growth of rank vegetation, is quickly concealed and nurtured into deadly microbes. Mosquitoes, too, find weeds a favorite haunt during the summer months.

With plant life in Vernon excelling in its luxuriance that of many preceding years, there is every likelihood that the appearance of the community will be detracted from and its health imperilled by a lack of interest on the part of its residents in killing the weeds in their early stages of growth. Efforts at the present time are not merely more efficacious than later on, but are not nearly so strenuous, as well.

Congress Uncle Joe Cannon says he will vacate, indicating that at least three men know a good thing when they see it.

WILBARGER'S LOSS

Wilbarger county will lose July 1 the services of an individual whose activities, it is safe to assume, have eclipsed during the year by a hundred fold the humanitarian efforts of the average citizen. Miss Rose Eilmann, public health nurse operating under the auspices of the local chapter of the Red Cross, will cease work here on that date because public approval of the good she is accomplishing has not voiced itself in dollars and cents.

The loss to this community will prove a corresponding gain to another but this mitigates not in the least the blow which will be dealt the sick and needy of the county. Sickness will not abate merely because there are lacking the ministrations of a nurse; rather it will tend to increase materially. In other words, Wilbarger has canceled its health insurance by permitting the policy to lapse. Pledges made should mean pledges nished through a canvass of the citizenship has never materialized. To relinquish for even a short time this nursing service is a decided misfortune, to fail to renew it would be little short of calamity.

BARN DANCE NOVEL AFFAIR

Hill Crest Event One of Most Novel Of Year In Social Circles

More than thirty-five couples Friday night enjoyed a beautiful barn dance given at Hill Crest Country Club west of town. Those who participated were attired in outlandish costumes of every description, and varied from demure little farm maidens to those of the "Sis Hopkins" variety. Music was furnished both by a local orchestra and out-of-town organization.

Guests were provided, upon their arrival, with favors consisting of rubber balloon farmyard animals. These when blown into, emitted shrill protests that sounded in typical barnyard choruses above the strains from the orchestra. The ball room was elaborately decorated for the occasion with bales of hay, shocks of grain, and farm implements, while lights were draped in colored crepe paper and hung with Japanese lanterns.

On the verandas were swings for the children, and an old well in one corner provided pink lemonade. Other refreshments consisting of ginger cookies and doughnuts were also served. Mrs. Arthur Vernon was awarded first prize, a tiny pig, for the best makeup.

Hosts for the occasion were Misses Mary Anderson, Adelle Sumner, Don and Bob Standifer, and Messrs G. C. Morris, Joe Sumner, Keith Berry and John Storey.

Entertains With Calendar Party

Mrs. W. C. Baker of W. London street entertained her Sunday school class Friday afternoon with a Calendar party. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. R. E. McMinn. The home was appropriately decorated with calendars and roses. After entertaining for a "whole year" an ice course was served. Those present were Misses Lora Leverett, Laddie Bowers, Jewell Pearson, Agnes Lee, Velma Newman, Eva Lee, Natha Bowers, Aliene Lawson and Lucile Estes.

Entertains With Shmober Party

Miss Katherine Wheatley entertained with a shmober party Friday night at her home on W. Wilbarger street. Next morning the guests went to Allingham park where a sunrise breakfast was cooked and served picnic fashion to the following: Misses Adelle Housells, Katherine McColloch, Elizabeth Hicks, Eva Katherine Rayzor, Sue Hiatt, Virginia Creath, Leta Williams, Christine Keltz, Katherine Dodson, Merle Brunson, Ruth Sewell, Katherine Wheatley and Mrs. J. W. Wheatley.

Entertains Entre Nous Club

Miss Beulah Ladd was hostess to the Entre Nous club yesterday afternoon at her home on East Wilbarger street. Guests other than club members were Mrs. Dan Sumner, Miss Lucile Holt and Miss Ida Standifer. Bridge was played during the afternoon. Miss Frances Groover won high score and Miss Ruby Thomas low score. Miss Lucile Holt won high score for guests. The hostess served a salad course.

CONFEDERATES TO RICHMOND

Local Delegation of Old Soldiers and Friends To Leave June 16

Confederate veterans will journey to Richmond, Va., this year for their annual reunion, and preparations are being gotten under way by J. A. Creager, commander of the Vernon post, to marshal his forces for the trip. The local delegation will leave June 16 and will be given the privilege of a one cent a mile fare both ways.

The camp, or reunion, will extend over three days, but the time limit on railroad tickets has been placed at thirty days, with the privilege of stopovers. Extensive preparations are being made at Richmond to care for the old wearers of the gray and their escorts.

Those interested in the trip have been asked to attend a meeting to be held at the court house Saturday, June 3. Last year fifty-four Confederate soldiers and their friends made

WOULD COMMENCE CLEANUP ACTIVITIES

CITY ENGINEER SAYS WEEDS
MUST BE WARRED UPON IMMEDIATELY.

"We have a beautiful town here and I believe the time for making it still more attractive is right now," was the remark made yesterday by A. J. Robinson, city engineer, in discussing the general appearance of Vernon. Mr. Robinson has been deeply interested in beautifying the city for many years, and has been instrumental in instigating several cleanup campaigns in the past.

"Our chief fight and the first one to be undertaken," said the city engineer, "is against the weeds. With vegetation more luxuriant than in years we may expect a terrific crop of rank growth on vacant lots everywhere. I have seen the weeds seven feet high in Vernon, and they will reach that again if we do not take measures to combat them."

Safeguards Health.

"From the standpoint of health alone such a campaign is worth while. Refuse can be thrown on lots where high weeds exist and filth accumulates, all hidden from sight. Disease is inevitable, mosquitoes breed and public health is endangered. Doctors tell us if the sunlight can reach bacteria it will destroy them, but no rays can penetrate such dense growth. If property owners just realized it they are making their lots more salable by having them in presentable shape."

"We want to clean up our streets, too. In the event we are successful in bidding for the 1924 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, we must start now getting our city in shape. This is the logical year to carry out such activities, I believe."

COOKING CONTEST AT FARGO

Home and School Club Members To Compete For Community
Honors Friday

The Fargo Home and School Club will meet with Mrs. A. J. Wall of Fargo Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 for the purpose of jelly making. Canned fruits and sugar will be taken by those attending. Mesdames J. S. Cartwright, H. W. Cane and J. L. Crisp are leaders for the day.

Immediately following this meeting the ladies and girls will carry all their breads, cakes, pies and cookies to the W. O. W. Hall where a cooking contest begins. Miss Goodfellow will select the judges. Prizes will be awarded by a committee. In the contest the girls from 10 years old and up will compete with the ladies of the community.

The auction sale of all the baked food will take place Friday night, the proceeds furnishing a beginning for a piano fund for the school.

Each contestant is asked to bring three samples of biscuits and muffins made by a recipe which can be gotten from Mrs. Kate Scherer, and one or more of the following: light bread, loaf or layer cake, cookies, fruit pies, and custard pies with meringue, which are to be baked from a favorite recipe. Everybody is invited to come.

THE PRICE OF EGGS

By ADAM DONGES
President Wilbarger County Poultry Association.

I hear so many complaints every day in regard to eggs being too cheap. In response to this I wish to say that we are not getting as much for our eggs as we did, but why should we? This is the time of year when prices for this product drop.

Because the price of eggs is somewhat lower now than at the same time last year is no cause for alarm; it is the most natural thing in the world. Statistics show that every article of food is correspondingly lower in price than in 1921. It that means anything, it means that it costs less to produce eggs than it did and as a matter of fact, poultry men and women are getting as much for their products as heretofore.

It costs less to produce poultry and eggs than anything else on the farm. What have you on the farm that brings greater revenue in comparison with the money invested? Have you ever stopped to consider that this is a money crop 365 days in the year, and have you ever figured what little time you give for this same revenue?

Figure the time you give your poultry and see whether or not it is a good investment. You are very proud of the other thoroughbred stock about the place and are always proud to boost it. Now is the time to get your young birds started off for the next Wilbarger poultry show to make this annual event a success. We must have your co-operation; we want every farmer in Wilbarger county to be represented at the next show.

BOY LOSES MONEY—SAYS TWO MEN ROBBED HIM

Astensibly robbed of $40.80 by hijackers Sunday morning near the Frisco hotel, a 24 year old youth is thinking it all over today in his cell at the county jail with a charge of gaming and malicious mischief glaring opposite his name on the records in the sheriff's office. He was taken into custody late Sunday after officers had combed territory surrounding Vernon for a trace of his supposed assailants.

According to the story furnished the sheriff, the youth was robbed about 6 o'clock Sunday morning by two men, one of whom carried a pearl handled revolver. Officers arrived at once on the scene after having been informed of the affair, and immediately instituted a search, but to no avail.

Discovers Poker Game

Deputy Sheriff F. A. N. O'Neal, being of more than ordinary inquisitive turn of mind, "scented" about in approved Nick Carter fashion and ere long discovered that an elaborate poker game had been in progress the night before. Continuing his quest, he determined that the hijacked youth had been one of the most active of those engaged in the African pastime.

The money, said to have been gained from the sale of a cow, was clearly missing, but investigation revealed that the aforesaid cow was in possession of a relative of the aggrieved one. The officers quickly drew the conclusion that a malicious hoax had been practiced upon them for the purpose of concealing the loss of money.

While engaged in the search for the desperadoes, the horse carrying Sheriff Ish fell into a hole, throwing its rider and causing severe injury to one of his limbs.

W. C. T. U. To Meet

LAUDS WATERFIELD SPEECH

Crowell Publication Praises Vernon
Minister For Talk Before
School Children

The fact that our people recently had the opportunity of hearing two very fine speeches should not pass without mention. We refer to the one delivered by Rev. Waterfield of Vernon Friday night at the school auditorium and the other one by W. M. Murrell, pastor of the Methodist church, at his pulpit Sunday night. In both instances the speakers had full houses.

Rev. Waterfield chose as his subject "The Value of the Individual" and in the course of his address said many things of extreme practical value to every one. The leading thread of thought that ran through the whole argument was that man was made for service, and of course, education is merely the unfolding of the life for that service. One very striking truth that the speaker uttered was that too many people want to do little things. The average persons seem to want to render the least possible service he can in order to get through life. He emphasized the fact that all men should strive to do the biggest things of which they are capable, to assume responsibility and to live up to their privileges and duties.

The speaker dwelt at length with the character and influence of the individual as his gift to society. If selfishness is an outstanding element of character service will be correspondingly small, in spite of other favorable qualifications, he said.—Foard County News.

PRESENT PUPILS IN MUSIC AND EXPRESSION RECITAL

Mrs. H. O. Colley and Miss Geraldine Parker presented their pupils in music and expression recital Friday afternoon at the Methodist church. The children performed exceptionally well and a splendid audience heard the following program: "Song of the Turf"—Bilbro—Louise and Cornelia Johnson; "Runaway Horses"—Bilbro—Louise Johnson; "Sh-Sh-Sh"—Frances Rutledge; "Among the Daisies"—Bilbro—"A Boat Song"—Bilbro—Corinne Pigg; "A Similar Case"—Ethel McKinley; Japanese Doll"—Spaulding—Corrine and Katherine Pigg; "Who's Afraid"—Cooke—Christine Rainwater; "Italian Doll"—Spaulding—Evening Star"—Krogman—Katherine Pigg; "Almost a Man"—Mather Truce Houaker; "Doggie Rover and the Bee"—Bilbro—"Rose Waltz"—Bilbro—Doris Swinburn; "Minuet in G"—Beethoven—"Dancing School"—Luerta—Dorothy Schindler; "Laddie"—Ramal Butler; "Love Song"—C. W. Cadman—"Impromptu Mazurka"—Lak—Cornelia Johnson; "A Good Name"—"Grandma Pays the Bill"—Morris John Houaker; "Valse Courante"—Ed Parker—Era Vaughn.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbors. Read this statement:

Mrs. W. H. Thomasson, 610 Lexington Ct., Vernon, says: "My back and kidneys were in bad condition. My back ached and throbbled day and night through the small part and through my hips—here was a dull, bearing-down pain in my back and this hurt so I could hardly do my housework. When I stooped to pick up anything I became so dizzy I almost fell. My head ached all the time and my kidneys were all the time irregular in action. I tried different remedies but received no benefit. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and one box cured me entirely."

UNIVERSITY RADIO REACHING ALL SECTIONS OF STATE

Austin, Texas, May 29.—Much success is being met with by the University of Texas radio station in its work of broadcasting market reports, music and news items. G. A. Endress, director of the station, says:

"We send out our reports about 3 o'clock every afternoon. Every day I get a letter from some other station in the state telling me that they have picked up all we had to say." Mr. Endress said. "One man in Hill county over 200 miles away, has written that he not only gets the reports and enjoys the music himself, but that he calls up farmers on the telephone and they listen in also. We may be heard at much greater distance than this, but our chief interest is to reach all of Texas."

"At present we are experimenting to see how we should speak in order to be heard most distinctly at long distances. James Hunter, assistant state marketing agent, and I take turn about talking to see which of us gets the best results. We are very well pleased with the results we have received so far."

NOTICE

All parties wishing to take advantage of the cheap rates to the Confederate reunion at Richmond, Virginia, are requested to meet Camp Cabell at their hall at the court house Saturday, June 3 at 2 p. m., so we may be able to give the railroad company some idea of the number from our town. In this way it will be better able to take care of us.

VERNON TEAM TURNS TABLES ON ACME

LOCALS WIN SUNDAY AFTER DEFEAT HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Although defeated 4 to 3 Saturday at the fairgrounds by the strong baseball team from Acme, the local ball tossers Sunday wrecked vengeance upon their conquerors by capturing the second game of the series, played at Acme, by a score of 2 to 1. The game was without errors.

Perkins was the batting star of the contest, piling out the home run which won the game. Acme won the game played Saturday through a home run.

Vernon's Record Good

Vernon's work on the diamond this year has been of excellent calibre. Thalia proved a stumbling block through an exhibition team work considerably above the calibre of average semi-professional teams. Friday the Foard county team took the measure of the locals 9 to 4 in a game featured by free hitting, and poor support of Renfro, Vernon hurler. In the last half of the ninth inning Sneed's error at third and Teel's two bingles in right field sent chances glimmering for the locals.

Following is the box score and summary of the game played Friday:

GRADUATES FROM KEMPER ACADEMY WITH HONORS

Boonville, Mo., May 28.—Among the eighty cadets graduating at the Kemper Military School tomorrow are Robert T. Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lutz, and Travis Gibbs, son of Mrs. G. J. Gibbs, all of Vernon. Both of these Vernon boys have made creditable records. Robert Lutz's two years at Kemper have been replete with success in military and school activities. Under the Kemper conducting system he has developed into a promising football player. He played a good game at full back and is a good receiver of forward passes.

Lutz, by means of the Kemper academic organization, which insures each boy individual attention, will graduate with one of the highest scholastic records in the class. He is a second lieutenant in the cadet corps of Kemper Military School, which is designated by the United States war department as one of the ten honor schools of the country. Lutz sings in the Glee club and he recently toured the state of Missouri with that organization.

In the Kemper carnival he showed his northern schoolmates how brones are broken around Vernon. He has also participated in Kemper dramatics and upon graduation he intends to join the three hundred former Kemper boys who are now attending eighty of the largest universities in the country. He will enter Texas A. & M.

C. M. Batchelor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Batchelor, will also return from Kemper tomorrow. Lutz, Gibbs and Batchelor will reach Vernon Tuesday in all probability.

NEW CREDIT FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Domestic Art Course To Be Accepted "At Par" By Higher Institutions

Vernon high school will receive a full credit hereafter in domestic art, and a half unit in physiology, according to advices reaching the office of E. L. Dohoney, city superintendent of schools. No credit was given for these courses last year.

Conditions imposed upon local students attending higher institutions and desirous of studying further along lines of domestic art will not be removed under the new classification. Physiology and physical geography will replace the course known as general science in the local high school's curriculum.

The classification was established following an urgent letter sent the State Department by the local superintendent.

Firestone CORD TIRES

The section at the right was cut from a new Cord of the same size. Careful measurements show that only 1/3 of the tread of the tire on the Yellow Cab has been worn away after this long, grueling test. The carcass is intact after more than 11,000,000 revolutions.

Firestone Cords have averaged over 10,000 miles on Chicago Yellow Cabs (1,200 cabs all Firestone equipped). In thousands of instances, they have given from 15,000 to 20,000 miles.

Look at the tread—scientifically angled against skid, unassive and heavy in the center where the wear comes, tapered at the edges to make steering easier and to protect the carcass against destructive hinging action of high tread edges. The carcass is air bag expanded to insure uniform tension and paralleling of every individual cord. It is double "gum dipped" to make sure that each cord is thoroughly insulated with rubber.

This is the reason why Firestone Cords unfailingly deliver extraordinary mileage. It explains the unanimous demand of thoughtful tire buyers for these values. The local Firestone dealer will continue to provide the personal service that makes Firestone tire comfort and economy complete.

FINE DUROCS ON McCABE FARM DISPLAY STEADILY INCREASING EXCELLENCE

Twenty-three fine red sows and 140 husky porkers squalidly inform the visitor to the W. M. McCabe farm one mile east of Vernon that their owner is rapidly acquiring a fine herd of Duroc-Jerseys. A giant boar, purchased from an Iowa breeder and weighing nearly 900 pounds, heads the herd. Another splendid boar, 17 months old, tips the beam at 600 pounds.

Feeds Herd Alfalfa.

The breeder feeds his herd alfalfa grown on the place, and varies the diet with corn chops and oats. Sows are kept until they yield three litters, and they are then shipped out as meat hogs. A carload of shoats, averaging between 140 and 150 pounds, was shipped out last week.

Three men are required to care for this splendid group of animals. Meticulous details are given careful attention, and each week the growth of the hogs is judged by a pair of big scales that enable the breeder to know whether to increase or diminish the rations of his charges. Mr. McCabe favors Duroc-Jersey hogs because he thinks they are better adapted to Wilbarger county climate than big boned animals. Hams, shoulders and other cuts of meat from this sized hog, he says, meet more generally with public taste.

A GREETING FROM TEXAS

In the summer of 1915 the first of fort was made in Texas to hasten the advent of woman suffrage by direct Congressional action. This movement, instituted by the National Woman's Party, then known as the Congressional Union, was fostered by and flourished under the active efforts of this party until the final adoption of the Nineteenth Amendment.

Thousands of telegrams and petitions, and thousands of dollars have been drawn from our state by members of the National Woman's Party. Enthusiastic meetings of these same women have been held and Congressmen have been induced to grant repeated audiences to them, earnest and insistent.

Today, we the National Woman's Party of Texas send greetings to you at the Party's headquarters in Washington, feeling as in the days of the suffrage fight, the ties that bind us to you.

We recognize the National Woman's Party as the party with a policy, this policy recognizing nothing less than woman's equality with man, social, legal and political.

We applaud in the National Woman's Party the clearness of vision that penetrates the clouds of protective sentiment about woman, and hails her, self-reliant and self-responsible.

From the now home will emanate the spirit of the National Woman's Party. Headquarters will be the concentration point for all that we stand for.

We greet you, grouped today about the hearthstone, as those dedicated to woman's freedom—freedom from the legal discriminations dishonoring the statute books—freedom from traditions and taboos that poison personal and social relations—and freedom from those subtlest and most powerful of all bondages, that bred into generations of women by age-old habit—the psychology of a subject class.

We join you in the fight against bondage, visible and invisible, and we send greetings to you, dedicating our hearthstone to the purposes of this big freedom.

STORIES OF GREAT INDIANS

CHIEF LOGAN, THE CAYUGA; HIS IMMORTAL SPEECH

"I APPEAL to any white man to say if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and he gave him not meat; if ever he came cold and naked and he clothed him not? During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained idle in his camp, an advocate of peace. Such was my love for the whites that my countrymen pointed as I passed and said, 'Logan is the friend of the white man.' I had even thought to have lived with you but for the injuries of one man.

"Colonel Cresap, the last spring, in cold blood and unprovoked, murdered all the relations of Logan, not even sparing my women and children. There runs not a drop of my blood in the veins of any living creature. This called on me for revenge. I have sought it. I have killed many. I have fully glutted my vengeance. For my country I rejoice at the beams of peace; but do not harbor a thought that mine is the joy of fear. Logan never felt fear. He will not turn on his heel to save his life. Who is there to mourn for Logan? Not one!"

What American has not at some time in his school career recited from his reader that speech, not realizing the historical inaccuracy of some of the statements nor the fact that the chief was doing a great injustice to Col. Michael Cresap, a daring borderer and a brave officer of the Virginia riflemen during the Revolution? For the man who was guilty of the murder was Daniel Greathouse, a disolute trader. But even such errors in fact cannot detract from the greatness of the speech and of the man, nor from the tragedy of his life. For Logan (Tah-gah-jute—literally: "His Eyeslashes Stick Out"; figuratively: "Spring") was unwavering in his friendship to the whites until the massacre of his people in 1770 sent him on the war-path, raging like a wild animal. He was the leading figure in Lord Dunmore's war, one of the bloodiest in frontier history.

Occasionally his better instincts prevailed during that war. Once he saved the life of Simon Kenton, the famous scout, when Kenton's old friend, Simon Girty, the "white renegade," had failed.

He had been an intemperate drinker before the Greathouse murder. After that he became an utter sot, which only added to his cruelty. In 1780 his nephew killed him during a drunken brawl. His wife survived him, but there were no children. So his mournful statement, "there runs not a drop of my blood in the veins of any living creature," was true to the last.

RADIO

CRYSTAL DETECTOR EASY TO CONSTRUCT

Telephone Condenser and Receivers Can Better Be Purchased—Mounting the Set.

The material needed to construct a simple crystal detector is as follows: Piece of silicon or galena melted in a metal button, 25 cents.

Two binding posts, 20 cents.

A block of shellacked or stained wood 3 by 3 1/2 inches.

A thin strip of sheet copper or brass 1/4 inches wide by two inches long.

Mount the two binding posts on the block of wood as shown, fastening under one binding post a strip of copper or brass—see sketch—and under the other binding post a coiled up spring of fine springy copper or brass wire. By placing the button of metal con-ments, the tuner, the crystal detector and the telephone condenser, can be mounted on a stained base of wood, say, eight inches square and one-half inch thick. This will keep the component parts of the set together, making a compact unit of the whole and also be advantageous in that it will hold the instruments while adjustments are being made.

The sketch shows how the instruments are connected with each other and to the ground. The condenser is connected to one side of the tuner and to the crystal detector. The ground is connected to the other side of the phones and the condenser and the tuner.

Lamp cord is excellent for connecting up small radio sets of this kind—it being a good conductor, well insulated and easy to handle.

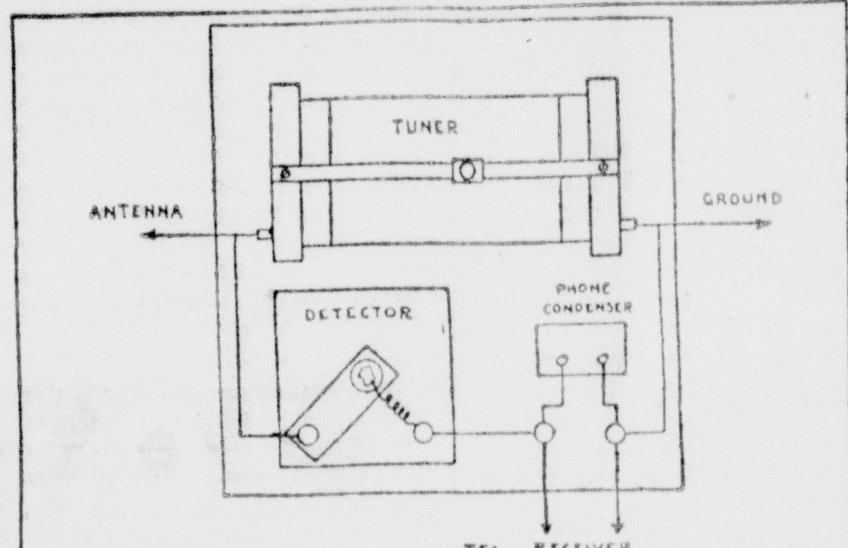

HOW TO LISTEN IN

There are two variables in our radio receiver that require adjustment when it is desired to listen-in; first, the detector, and second, the slide position on the tuner. Once the slider position has been determined for any given transmitting station, it is only necessary to adjust the detector to pick up that same station again.

To operate the receiver for the first time it is best to wait until some station like KDKA is transmitting between 5:30 and 9:30 p. m. Then ad-

taining the crystal of silicon or galena on the strip of metal and allowing the spring to make contact with the surface of the crystal the detector is complete and ready for operation.

A complete crystal detector can be purchased from 75 cents to $2, depending upon the type.

Two other pieces of apparatus are necessary that cannot be readily constructed—they are the telephone condenser and the receivers. A telephone condenser to be used in listening across the phones can be purchased for about 50 cents.

For use with a radio receiver of this type it is recommended that a pair of 3,000-ohm, Murdoch type, No. 56 receivers, costing $6, be purchased. These are all the necessary parts needed for the complete receiver.

If it is desired, the three instruments can be purchased for less than the cost of the parts. The detector can be made by changing the point at which the spring and crystal of the detector make contact until, when a nearby electric light is snapped on and off, a click is heard in the head phones. The detector is now adjusted on a sensitive spot on the crystal. By changing the slider position, the transmitting station should be picked up.

After a station is once picked up it is an easy matter to adjust the detector and slider position until maximum response is obtained in the telephone receiver. With a simple set of the kind described in this and preceding articles and a little practice one soon becomes adept at picking up a given station. The entertainment derived from listening-in is usually well worth the time spent and the money invested.

OUTLINES REMEDY FOR LIME HUNGER IN COWS

MANY RURAL SCHOOLS FALL IN WITH HOT LUNCH IDEA

Through the efforts of extension workers of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges working in cooperation with local organizations and school authorities, hot lunches are now served to 187,434 children in 3,808 rural schools; more than 16,502 rural schools obtain milk and serve it to 115,111 children. Through this and other agencies the serving of hot lunches in rural schools is becoming widely extended and the influence of this work has followed the children into their homes, reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture showing that children in more than 6,000 rural families are given better food and care as a result of the information supplied to interested mothers by extension workers.

"Cows are continually chewing at this time of the year," writes a West Texas correspondent, "and if they cannot find bones, they will take tin cans or anything that comes handy." He wants to know what will satisfy them. Dr. G. S. Fraps, State Chemist to the Texas Experiment Station, answers that this indicates that animals are not receiving what they ought to receive in their food, and the deficient substance is probably lime, although it may be both lime and phosphoric acid.

It would be well to mix up a mixture of equal parts bone meal and salt, and allow the animals to have free access to it whenever they desire. If the animals have not been getting any salt, before feeding this mixture they should receive salt at the rate of one ounce each a day, as they may consume large quantities at first if they have not been getting it. That is to say, for fifteen cows one pound of salt should be put out daily, for about a week. After that put out a box with the mixture of bone meal and allow them to have all that they want of it. The salt is not especially harmful, even if they do get a quantity of it. It would be well to see that the salt is of good quality.

It is possible that a mixture of air

AVIATORS BATTLE DEATH SATURDAY

MERRELL AND ARMSTRONG FALL NEARLY 1,600 FEET AT DALLAS.

M. M. Merrell of Dallas, airplane pilot and Frank Armstrong, stunt performer and parachute jumper, are receiving congratulations from friends over their miraculous escape from death Saturday afternoon during the aerial circus at the Dallas Durbar. When strut wires on the plane broke, the men dropped from an altitude of 1,600 feet to within 250 of the ground before the machine was righted. Both aviators appeared in the recent meets staged in Vernon.

Merrell, it was, who piloted the plane from which Lirette jumped to his death here May 14, and Armstrong was the man who jumped from a high altitude immediately following the accident. A feature story concerning the latter aviator appeared in a recent issue of The Record. Following is the account of the near accident in Dallas Saturday taken from The Dallas Morning News:

Control Stick Jams

With the control stick and throttle of the airplane in which they flew jammed so that the use of neither was fully recovered until the ship had dropped from an altitude of 1,600 feet to within 250 or 300 feet of the ground, Pilot M. M. Merrell of Dallas and Frank Armstrong of Ponca City, Okla., aerial stunt performer, went through an experience in the Southwest Durbar aerial contests at Fair Park Saturday afternoon that few men go through and live to tell of. For the space of a few seconds that seemed minutes long, spectators watched in helpless, fear-fraught agony the grim battle with death staged in mid-air above the green turf of the race track inclosure. A great gasp of relief went up when the plane, now above the top seats of the stadium, straightened out, a sign that Pilot Merrell had won the fight.

Doing Acrobatic Stunts

"The accident that so imperiled the lives of Pilot Merrell and Aerial Stuntist Armstrong and that added a wholly unscheduled thrill to the afternoon's performance, came when Merrell, in his Curtiss C. Plane, took Armstrong up for the latter's aerial acrobatics. Armstrong had successfully completed what is known as a break-away from the plane with a rope ladder. He then climbed on top wing of the plane where he intended to remain while it looped the loop and went through a tail spin. Armstrong's feet were in straps fastened to the wing of the plane and in each hand he held a wire strut, also fastened to the plane's wing.

"The spectators saw the airship's nose climb up in the loop. Before the plane had reached the zenith of its swing upward, they saw Armstrong fall back into the cockpit. The wire strut or lines, by which he steadied and held himself to the plane's wing, had snapped in two when the full weight of his body placed a strain on them.

"Armstrong fell head first into the cockpit. His body in falling turned on the motor when it came against the throttle and he was wedged in such a position in front of Merrell that the control stick of the machine was jammed tight against the pilot's body.

"Merrell managed to elbow Armstrong's body up sufficiently to get the stick into action again and the plane fell from the loop into a tail spin with the motor humming. Nearer and nearer it raced to the earth with the motor still on. Armstrong was so wedged on his head in the cockpit that he was unable to move. When the plane had plunged so close to the ground that disaster appeared inevitable, Merrell managed to reach Armstrong's body and, grasping the wire line that led from the throttle to the motor, cut off the engine and won the fight fought under such odds. The plane straightened out and in a brief period was landed on the race track inclosure.

Wife Watches Fall

"Armstrong, unhurt save for severe bruises about his head and shoulders and arms, was helped from the plane. Mrs. Armstrong and daughter, Dottie, who had watched the fight in mid-air, rushed up to him. The daughter, in the grand stand when the flight started, had rushed as fast as she could from the stand when she saw the plane carrying her father falter high above her head.

"Many of the spectators and his fellow pilots rushed up to grab the hand of Merrell and congratulate him on his coolheadedness and skill. It was the opinion of virtually all who saw and understood the accident that only the skill of the pilot saved the life of the two men."

Errett Williams and Pat Murphy, both of whom participated in the meets in Vernon and in the Dallas Durbar as well, are in Vernon today, having arrived Monday from Dallas to take back Murphy's plane, left here two weeks ago because of engine trouble. The young aviators witnessed the Merrell-Armstrong fall Saturday.

Because Armstrong permitted his knees to sag the wind caught him with such force that the strut wires snapped, they asserted, and he suddenly disappeared from the sight of spectators on the field. Few of those present except brother aviators, say Williams and Murphy, realized what was happening. Merrell's plane went into spin after spin and was below the level of the grand stand roof before it straightened out.

Shoulder Broken

Armstrong, whose shoulder was broken when he fell into the cockpit, was too dazed to render Merrell as assistance. He could hear the pilot's voice, cool and collected, saying, "We're in a spin, Army, and will hit the ground if we don't do something soon. Help me if you can." The wing walker, however, was not sufficiently conscious to grasp the import of the words, and was so jammed into the cockpit that he was powerless to move.

Finally Merrell, desperate as death loomed imminent, seized his fellow aviator about the neck and shoulders and lifted him bodily from his predicament, pinning his head against the fuselage while his body streamed in the wind. The pilot then reached over and manipulated his control lever.

To Stick With Parachute

"Armstrong says he is going to stick to parachute work after this," said Williams this morning, "and Merrell says one more fall like that and he will quit flying. I never hope to see anything like that again."

"Mrs. Armstrong was nearly frantic over the incident," Murphy added. "Mrs. Merrell, though, was as happy as a child that evening. I heard her say before that as long as M. M. Merrell has his senses he will never have an accident flying. She believes he could fly forever and get meet death by falling off a porch."
